What This Dynamic Seminar Offers

Over the last five years, there have been more officers shot or killed in the line-of-duty than at any other time in the history of American law enforcement. What is ironic about this period of time is that law enforcement officers have received the best training, wear the most technologically advanced soft body armor, are armed with the most lethal weapons, and deploy the most advanced nonlethal weaponry in the history of policing; yet, officers are being assaulted, shot, stabbed, and killed at an ever increasing rate. The elusive question is why? In the philosophical tradition of Sun Tsu's "The Art of War," the 48 Tenets of Officer Survival answers this question and provides solutions to this officer survival crisis. This comprehensive seminar provides forty-eight insightful precepts that will make you safer on the street or in the correctional facility. The following provides a snapshot of the pragmatic, philosophical, solutions discussed in this entertaining, motivating, and thought provoking seminar:

- Mental preparation for responding to high risk calls
- Surviving verses Winning
- Effective cover officer strategies
- Breaking bad tactical habits
- Role a cop's family plays in street survival
- Creating a winning survival mindset
- Strategies for improving officer safety
- Developing an effective survival belief system
- Recognizing your combat limitations
- Proven guidelines for disarming a suspect
- Impact of martial arts training on officer survival
- Why females make good cover officers
- Overcoming confusion, doubt, fear, and pain
- Mindset of a thorough search
- Cover stops more than bullets
- If given the Miranda Warning, take it
- Why ambidextrous officers live longer
- Importance of not relying on technology to keep you safe
- Role of faith in officer survival
- Understanding and defeating an attempted officer disarming
- Mental preparation for a lethal encounter
- Best techniques to use in personal combat
- Improved handcuffing tactics
- Tactics for defeating edged weapon attacks
- Role the tactical folding knife plays in officer survival
- Why you need to be feared, but not hated
- Creation of the modern warrior

Meet Your Instructor Howard Webb

Howard Webb is a nationally and internationally recognized criminal justice liability management and use of force expert, who authored the four-hundred and four page liability management and use of force treatise: MANAGING THE USE OF FORCE INCIDENT For Officers, Supervisors, and Administrators. Howard's textbook and his proactive liability management and use of force training program has been adopted by national and international criminal justice agencies and police academies as an effective solution to their civil litigation challenges, media relations difficulties, and Department of Justice civil rights investigations.

Furthermore, Howard is a nationally recognized expert on officer survival skills, strategies and tactics. As the director of training and the officer survival expert for POINT BLANK and P.A.C.A. (DHB Armor) soft body armor companies, he reviewed hundreds of officer survival incidents. As a product of his research, Director Webb developed over a dozen officer survival and use of force training programs for use with DHB Armor's "Hitman Suit" - a tactical training suit he designed. As a result of over twenty years of officer survival research and training, Howard authored his second book: THE 48 TENETS OF OFFICER SURVIVAL as a solution to the increasing levels of violence directed toward law enforcement officers. Written in the philosophical tradition of Sun Tsu's The Art of War, he addresses the cultural, mental, and technical aspects of street survival from a street cop's perspective.

Mr. Webb is a federal, municipal, and state court recognized procedural and technical expert witness in the areas of corrections and law enforcement. As an expert witness, he has testified over three-hundred times in defense of officers in civil trials and criminal prosecutions. In his role as a corrections and law enforcement expert, Howard has reviewed over a thousand incidents involving the use of alleged excessive force or misconduct by criminal justice officers and private citizens. Further, he is routinely sought out to consult on matters of police excessive force by criminal justice administrators and members of the news media. Mr. Webb's court recognized expert witness curriculum vitae can be reviewed at the American Council On Criminal Justice Training's website: www.accjt.org.

The following is a list of Mr. Webb's professional highlights:

- An acclaimed expert on criminal justice liability, tactics, use of force, and officer survival, who conducts training seminars and instructor development courses nationally.
- Published author on police liability management, who has written the first comprehensive treatise on proactively managing use of force incidents for officers, detectives, supervisors, middle-managers, and administrators.
- Former use of force expert for the State of Oregon and the State of Montana, who has testified in defense of criminal justice officers, over three-hundred times, in civil lawsuits and criminal prosecutions.
- Former director of the Montana Law Enforcement Academy, who created and implemented the first scenario-based police academy training curriculum.
- An original member of Macho Products' Redman Advisory Board. Board members provide suit improvement recommendations.
- Former director of training for DHB Armor Group: POINT BLANK and P.A.C.A body armor companies, who developed the "Hitman" training equipment - the first suit designed to integrate the use of Simmunition.™
- Provided use of force training to the 1996 Olympic Security Team, a 2,000 member international police force who provided security at the 1996 Olympics in Atlanta, GA.
- Created the national "Police Corps" program and managed the first Police Corps academy for the U.S. Department of Justice. The Police Corps was the civilian version of the military's ROTC program.
- Former Lieutenant for the Oregon Department of Public Safety Standards and Training, who managed the basic police, defensive tactics, patrol tactics, survival skills, vehicle stops, and use of force training programs.

48 TENETS of OFFICER SURVIVAL

Precepts for the Modern Warrior

Over the last five years, there have been more officers shot or killed in the line-of-duty than at any other time in the history of American law enforcement. What is ironic about this period of time is that law enforcement officers have received the best training, wear the most technologically advanced soft body armor, are armed with the most lethal weapons, and deploy the most advanced nonlethal weaponry in the history of policing; yet, officers are being assaulted, shot, stabbed, and killed at an ever increasing rate. The elusive question is why? The 48 Tenets of Officer Survival answers this question and provides solutions to this officer survival crisis on a philosophical level, similar to Sun Tsu's "The Art of War." This comprehensive treatise provides forty-eight insightful rules to make you safer on the street or in the correctional facility. The following are examples of the pragmatic philosophical admonishments contained within:

- Law Enforcement Cynicism Is Good For Health
- Trust Only Cops, But Not With Your Money Or Your Spouse
- If You're Dead, You Can't Be A Good Cover Officer
- Bad Officer Safety Habits Are Still Habits
- You Can Do Everything Right And Still Get Killed, But It Makes It Harder For The Suspect To Kill You
- Never Go On Shift Angry With A Loved One, They Put Up With Your Crap and Love You Anyway
- Study Martial Sciences, Not Martial Sports
- Shoot To Kill, Killers Stop Faster When They're Dead
- Females Make Good Cover Officers
- All People Feel Confusion, Doubt, Fear, And Pain, The Strongest Overcome Them
- A Thorough Search Is Never Thorough Enough
- Cover Stops More Than Bullets
- If Given The Miranda Warning, Take It
- Ambidextrous Officers Live Longer
- Defense Against A Weapon Disarming Starts With Awareness And Ends In A Grapple

From the author of Managing The Use of Force Incident for Officers, Supervisors, and Administrators, the American Council on Criminal Justice Training is proud to announce the publication and availability of Howard Webb's latest Book.

The 48 Tenets of Officer Survival can be purchased from amazon.com and at www.accjt.org. Price: $19.95

This philosophical approach to officer survival acknowledges that officers possess all the tactical knowledge and skills necessary to survive on the street or in the correctional facility, but they routinely fail to deploy those tactical skills. This is a survival mindset problem that only a philosophical approach to officer survival can address. Consequently, if you embrace and internalize the 48 tenets, it is guaranteed that you will develop and maintain a survival mindset that will sharpen your warrior's edge.
